

Project

ATELIER THEATRE JEAN VILAR

Architects

OUEST ARCHITECTURE

Address

Place Rabelais, 1348 Louvain-la-Neuve

Programme

Complete renovation of the existing theatre

About

Beneath the street, the artists

Offering a better theater, with a higher height than before, without raising the current roof: this is possible in Louvain-la-Neuve, city built on a slab.

The new project offers a strong face and visibility towards the Rabelais, while maintaining a assumed logic of renovation.

The slab of the city and its entrails now hosts the theater, which can be seen from the street.
