Programe	Europan competition. Urban proposition for Praga Poldunie site's insertion to the city of Warsaw
About	The site of Praga Poldunie is locked in the north of Warsaw. Our intervention consists in re-thinking an expressway bordering the northern edge of the site and connecting it to the city. The derelict area alongside the expressway is turned into a park at the scale of the city. The park extends as a number of ?green corridors? into the site. We then rejuvenate it by creating dense layers crossing those green corridors. The layers create mixity and are alternatively public spaces, landmarks, blocks of habitat near the park, office districts and isolated objects.
