

ACCATTONE: EXHIBITION AT THE VILLA NOAILLES - HYÈRES

The architecture exhibition "Houses for Superstars, Hypermediated architecture" will be held at the Villa Noailles, Hyères (France) from 8 February to 15 March 2020. It consists, for six French-speaking teams of emerging architects, of choosing a "superstar" and designing a villa for her in the form of a model or an installation.

The Accattone team was invited to participate directly by the Villa's General Manager, Jean-Pierre Blanc. Benjamin Lafore & Sébastien Martinez-Barat with Audrey Teichmann are the curators of the exhibition.

The proposal of Accattone is to dedicate to the tutelary figure of Greta Thunberg, mediastar of the climate emergency, a territorial, post-sedentary 'villa' that confronts the changing climate regime through the human, plant and animal migrations it entails.

The research in progress is recorded in a recto/verso poster containing an atlas of images and extended captions that broaden the subject matter beyond the immediacy of the large model.

A project by Accattone magazine (Ismaël Bennani, Sophie Dars, Orfée Grandhomme, Carlo Menon, Galaad Van Daele) in collaboration with Alice Nouvet, Alice Paris, Camille Pons and Plant & Houtgoed (Jeroen Deseyn, Nicolas Vandenplas).

Date	08/02 - 15/03/2020
Publication	27/01/20
Website	https://villanoailles-hyeres.com/