

NEY & PARTNERS WINS AACAAWARD (JP)

Ney & Partners wins the AACAAward 2018 for the Dejima Footbridge in Nagasaki. The Japan architecture association's goal is to encourage the communication between people from different disciplines, such as artists, craftsmen, architects, in an effort to create an urban space of social and cultural quality.

The association awards each year several projects for their contributions to the association's goal from broad fields including urban design, landscape design, design, architecture, painting, sculpture, graphic design interior design or designs of new technology.