Description

COOPARCH-RU

COOPARCH is a team of 30 architects and urban planners located in brussels and Aix-en-Provence. Created in 1978 with the idea of the urban renewal, now cooparch is looking forward through the urban resilience concept apply to the urban-way-of-living but also into the global design act in architecture.

COOPARCH work in studies as urban planning, refurbishment building, public space design and landscape. We are able to make all these things with a large team of skills! from architects to urban planner also including historians, engeneers of traffic and so on.

At least, Cooparch is also working in process with university and european team research, in case of specific program.
