ARTAU, ARCHITECTURES

Description

For more than 40 years, we have put people and our customers at the heart of our office and the creative process. The conviviality within our workshop is the driving force behind our development and the basis of our DNA. Together, our ambition is to develop resilient projects that are integrated into a territorial transition process. Thanks to our experience, we understand our clients by imagining their way of life, creating quality spaces and working together to make them a reality. Artau architectures is above all an architecture of context and awareness. The architecture developed is intended to be in symbiosis with the context in which it is located and the constraints associated with it. Our approach to the client is part of an altruistic desire to awaken to architecture and contemporary issues.

In line with our philosophy and our desire for change, our offices are located in the heart of a district in transition, opposite the Guillemins station and its mobility hub.
