VAN EETVELDE ARCHITECTES SPRL

vieille rue du moulin 85b
1180 Bruxelles

Description

Van Eetvelde Architects is a team open to all projects combining creativity, current technicality and an increasing know-how after a thirty years experience. The people who make up this team are four architects, an interior architect and designer, three draughtsmen, a project manager and a secretary.

Designing a project requires to be aware of many factors. These factors include amongst other things the analysis of the contemporary ways of living and working, the search of high quality materials and adequate construction techniques and, of course, compliance with the budgetary requirements of the client. The architectural coherence of each project shall emerge from the synergy between these factors.

From the feasibility study to the final execution, each project builds a challenge and offers an experience. Such experience allows the development of contemporary solutions which are technically adequate but which also give room to dream and enthusiasm.
