Philosophy

Throughout the project, try to speak simply of Architecture ... Starting with the program try to bring the discussion beyond it, about the quality of life, quality of the built environment.

Through discussions, reflections, images, tours, field work, give the taste, the desire to discover sights, lights, materials, communicate the passion of the built space.

Not to be afraid of typical houses and the character of the area, its bricks, and some standards ...

Consider the process of constructing a logic of Within this little moment of life shared with the owner, strive to be as attentive and creative as possible to think of an unique, integrated and matured, all this integrating environmental friendly and energy objectives.

Do not impose architecture as a phenomenon but put it back as a part of lives and identity.
